RECOMMENDATIONS.

"The book will fully bear me out in saying, it is a well-digested compound of all that is necessary to qualify a young Magistrate for the use and honorable discharge of his functions. It offers to him the fruits of long experience and accurate research, &c. It will afford assistance not only to the Judicial Magistrate, but to every County and Township Officer—and it will reward the citizen for a careful perusal of it, with much exact knowledge of his Civil and Political Rights, as well as correlative Duties."

JOHN B. GIBSON,

MOLTON C. ROGERS,
One of the Justices of Supreme Court, of Pa.

'It will furnish an excellent manual on the subject.' THOMAS SERGEANT,
One of the Justices of Supreme Court of Pa.

'It will be what, from his knowledge of the author, and from the general character of the work, he and the community, expected, viz:—A full and accurate Treatise on the Office and Duties of a Justice of the Peace.'

CHARLES HUSTON,
One of the Justices of Supreme Court of Pa.

Portable Iron Boat Line.

FOR FREIGHT AND PASSENGERS.—The public are respectfully informed that the above Line will commence operations immediately on the opening of the Canal. It is expected the Canal will be filled by Monday, the 16th instant, at which time we will despatch our first Boat, and continue daily throughout the season, from both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Sundays excepted.

This Line, from the mode of conveyance, affords great facilities for carrying both freight and passengers, the boats being formed in sections, which are separated and carried over the mountains and rail road without removing the cargo, thus saving the time, trouble, and risk of transhipment at three different points. It also furnishes great advantages to families who are removing, and to merchants who wish to accompany their goods, and have them under their own charge from point to point.

The warehouses of this Company are large and spacious, affording sufficient room to store all goods commited to their charge, and the subscribers, thankful for past favors, solicit a continuance of that liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon this Line. They are now fully prepared to receive merchandise and produce for shipment, and the public are assured that any goods committed to their care shall be forwarded in as good order, as short time, and upon as fair terms, as by any other Line. For freight or passage apply to

PATENT BEDSTEADS.

WE were invited yesterday to the shop of Thomas Ligget & Co., to look at some new bedsteads, made upon what seems to us to be an improved plan Instead of the metal screws, heretofore used, right and left screws are turned in the wood of the sides and head pieces, and in the posts corresponding female screws are cut. These side and head pieces are round, and all turned inward; and the pins being towards the out-side, the weight on the bed tightens the bedstead.

The advantages of the improvement are said to consist in their greater simplicity, in their being no necessity for marking the different pieces—a dozen or more may be promiscuously thrown together, and then all readily put up, and finally in the impossibility of bugs finding a harbor in them.—Gazette.

N. B. Those who wish to purchase such articles are requested to call at our shop in Second, between Market and Wood streets, and examine for themselves. THOMAS LIGGET & CO.

Tuesday Afternoon, January 5, 1841.

HENRY MUNTZ has been appointed Post Master at Zollenople, Butler County, Pa., in stead of J O Muntz, Esqr., resigned."

The Legislature of this State meets this day. The ensuing session will perhaps be an important and arduous one. There will probably be some difficulty in the choice of a Speaker in the House.

We trust that our friends will unite on a candidate of decided character—better have a Loco Foco than a man who is laboring to please both sides—is sure to be always half wrong, and never more than half right.

The question of instructions to our Senators will, no doubt, come up, and, we suppose, will be passed, and that, too, by men who do not approve the doctrine.

We confess that, for our own part, we would prefer leaving both our Senators in their places rather than sanction a practice which is manifestly injurious in its operation; a practice which tends to undo what the fathers of our constitutions intended to do, and to render the Senate which they designed to make more steady actually more fluctuating than the House.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—There is some anxiety to hear what the Governor will say about the resumption of specie payments.

Our own expectation is, that he will proclaim his determination not to sign any bill to prolong the suspension. He is aware that the present legislature will not countenance a further continuance of the present state of things. He knows, also, that the banks in Philadelphia have made arrangements for a resumption on the 15th inst, and are ready for it.

He will, therefore, in all probability, endeavor to tickle the barn-burners by a tremendous philippic against the banks, and by a bold declaration that he will not sign any bill to extend the suspension.

One consideration, and one only, can prevent his pursuing that course. It is this. He is anxious to be elected again, and he may reason thus:

"I will have a hard through in October. I had but a lean majority in 1838, and Loco Focoism is rotting in this State. Of course it will require all our forces, and some more, to elect me.

"By open warfare on the banks, I can gain the support of the barn burners, but then I shall want funds to employ a great many persons repairing, or at least pretending to repair, the canal about election time.

"Upon the whole therefore, I think a good deal of money will be more serviceable, on the 2nd Tuesday of October than a few hundred barn burners."

Such reasoning may lead our worthy Governor to manifest a most merciful disposition towards the banks, and in this way will he settle with his conscience the pros and cons. of the Bank question.

INCONSISTENCY.—When Mr. Webster made some remarks in favor of taxing French silks and French wines, the Globe raised an outcry about the British Whigs, their love of Great Britain, and their hostility to France.

Now because Mr. Alford, a whig member of Congress from Georgia, approves the manly tone of Mr. Forsythe's letter to the British Minister, a loco foco member from Calhoun's State charges General Harrison with bitter hostility to the British Government.

The Globe and other Loco Foco papers console themselves in defeat by the declaration that eight or ten thousands votes more, properly distributed, in favor of Van Buren would have elected him.

In reply to this, we might say that there were votes enough in favor of Harrison in Kentucky or Ohio to have elected him unanimously, had they been properly distributed.

Again, we would remark, that suppose Mr Van Buren had received ten thousand more properly distributed votes, and been elected, he would have been a minority President, and General Harrison, though defeated in the Colleges, would have received at least one hundred and twenty thousand more of the votes of the People than his elected competitor.

Finally, Mr Van Buren might receive twenty thousand votes less than he did receive and yet be elected, if the votes had been properly distributed.

BALTIMORE.—By the annexed extract, from the Baltimore American, it appears that the business of that city in Western produce has increased considerably since the opening of the Tide Water Canal.

"Included in to-days Review will be found statements of the Inspector, for the year 1840, of the principal staples of the Baltimore market. The Flour Inspection exhibits a much larger aggregate for the past year, than has ever been reached—the total being, in round numbers, a hundred and eighty thousand barrels of Flour. With the steadily increasing trade in breadstuffs which will flow into this market through the new channel of the Tide Water Canal, the annual aggregate inspection of Baltimore will soon reach a million of barrels.

The Tobacco inspection for the year just closed is larger, by 12,517 hhds., than that of 1839. The increase is in Maryland upwards of 8000 hhds., and in Ohio upwards of 4000 hhds.

The inspection of Herrings is 30,000 bbls. larger this year than last.

The Whiskey inspection is also some ten or twelve thousand barrels larger."

From an examination of the Review of the market in the Baltimore American, we get the following items in relation to flour.

The Inspection of flour for 1840 was	779,918	bbls
" " 1830 "	560,875	"
Increase	219,043	bbls

We observe in the Baltimore American that the Philadelphia North American complains of the pecuniary grant to extend the Tide Water Canal into this State, and styles that permission a "suicidal act."

The completion of that canal may perhaps cause the diversion of a portion of the produce of the Susquehanna, and of the West, to Baltimore, and thus lessen the quantity sent to Philadelphia.—This may be matter of complaint in that city but surely not to those who send on produce.

Western men have now, upon the arrival of their produce at Columbia, a choice of markets; they can go to Philadelphia or Baltimore, as prices may direct. Besides, the simple fact that there are two markets of equally easy access, creates more competition in both cities, and gives higher prices in both places, and thus benefits the producer. If the editor of the North American would suppose himself to be a western farmer, a planter of tobacco, or a packer of pork, instead of a citizen of Philadelphia, he would no longer look upon the permission to make the Tide Water Canal as a "suicidal act," but would think it a most beneficent one. Philadelphians are, many of them, too apt, both in business and politics, to consider their city to be the State.

DISTRESSING CASUALTY.—Mrs Long living near the New Waterworks, in Pitt Township, was burnt so badly by her clothes taking fire, on Saturday night about 11 o'clock, the 2nd inst, that she expired on Sunday evening following. She was lifting the coffee pot off the fire with the skirt of her dress, when unfortunately her under clothes took fire. On discovering the fact, she ran to an adjining room for a bucket of water, which she poured on her head, but all to no purpose: and by this time her clothes were in a perfect blaze, her fearful screams were heard by her next neighbor for a long time, but thinking it some family matter, he refused to interfere. She finally fell down near the fire place, and lay there until the fire had consumed all her clothing, including her cap, and the hair of her head. Her husband was in bed in the same room with her, all the time, but slept so soundly that he knew nothing of the accident until the next morning. H.

For the Gazette.

MR EDITOR: A few days ago a correspondent offered some suggestions respecting the erection of a market-house, which were decidedly good, as to the general plan, and must have met the approbation of all your readers. I propose to add to the considerations suggested by him, which urgently demand the erection of a market-house, together with some additions to his plan. And first: it has long been apparent that the space to which the market is confined, is not more than one-third of what is required in order that people have room to pass, and to obtain a sight of the articles designed to be exposed for sale, but which are really concealed from view by the manner in which commodities and persons are jammed together. Then the elbowing, jostling and pressing edgeways which have to be done and borne by women, too, add so enormously to the other grievances, that it is wonderful it has been endured in a city like this which has made so many advances in works for the accommodation of the inhabitants. But further: is it consistent with any state of civilization which shelters inhabitants from the inclemency of winter, that in a city of this magnitude people should have to lie with their produce all night in the open streets, in the coldest weather of our climate! Why should the market be the only place of those which are capable of protection, which is unprotected from the rigor of the season? Is there not reason enough here, for the thin and ill provided markets which we frequently see in winter, compelling the citizens to pay double for some of the commonest articles!

I concur, then, with the plan of making the first story of the house partly under ground, but I would so arrange it as to have a row of vegetable stalls all round the outside wall; not outside of the wall, but inside lighted with glass windows in winter, and, if desired, laffer boards turning on pivots in summer. Inside of this range might be rooms for any use which might be desired. The next floor might be exclusively a meat and fish market, and should be inclosed in the same manner, and a small amount of heat, added to the heat of the gas burner, would render it tolerable in the coldest weather. In a market house so constructed business could be done at all hours of the day and night, except when the heat of summer would forbid, and without any inconvenience to the public from having the thoroughfare obstructed. At present a great many people purchase on the evening before the market, at the tavern yards; and how great would be the accommodation both to buyers and sellers, if they could occupy a commodious market house from the time the country people arrive until ten o'clock at night. And the advantage to workingmen, who cannot spare time in the day, to make their purchases at night, would be immense. This market house being but one story and a half high, a large hall for town meetings might be made above all. When one building has been tried, and if found insufficient for the wants of the public, a corresponding one could be built on the side now occupied by the market shed, which would probably meet all the wants of so many of the citizens as would attend at this point in all time to come; other positions being selected to suit the population as the city extends.

TWENTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, DEC. 31.

UNITED STATES SENATE.

Mr Benton, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill for the relief of the Missouri volunteers.

The resolution offered by Mr Tallmadge yesterday, in regard to Treasury notes, was adopted.

The other business was not of public importance. Both Houses adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

PRINTERS TO THE HOUSE.

Mr Rives, of the firm of Blair & Rives of the Globe, presented a petition to the House this morning through Mr Davis, of Ind, stating that the Clerk of the House had given printing to Mr Langtree which belonged to the printers of the House. A select committee was proposed, and after some conversation between Messrs Davis, Morgan and Naylor, ordered. The committee will consist of five members.

STEAMER CAROLINE.

Mr Fillmore, of N Y, asked for the printing of five thousand copies of a letter and other documents from the State Department in reference to the arrest of M'Leod, charged with aiding in the burning of the Caroline. It embraces a correspondence between the American Minister at London, the British Minister here, and the Secretary of State. After the five thousand copies had been ordered to be printed, a motion to reconsider was submitted by Mr Alford, of Georgia.

Mr A was anxious to hear the documents read, and the reading was commenced by the Clerk.—I send you a synopsis of the correspondence.

The documents were, first, a brief message from the President transmitting the correspondence between the functionaries of the two Governments.

Secondly, a letter from Mr Stevenson, at London, addressed to the Secretary of State, saying that no answer had been received to the question submitted from the United States Government, respecting the burning of the Caroline.

The third letter was from Mr Fox to Mr Forsyth, stating that the British Government would probably answer the questions submitted without delay.

Some time afterwards, when a correspondence upon the arrest of McLeod now in prison in New York, was commenced. The first letter concerning the arrest is one which will excite some attention in the country. It is addressed by the British Minister to the Secretary of State, and in it he complains of the arrest of a subject of Great Britain and his imprisonment in New York. He demands the release of the prisoner, and proceeds to avow the principle or fact, that the burning of the Caroline was an act committed by the British Authorities.

McLeod, he asserts, if employed in burning the Caroline, which he very much doubts, was employed by authority. The British authorities, therefore, he proceeds to say, are responsible, and not McLeod. The question, as a consequence, if to be controverted, becomes one which must be settled by the two Governments, and not by the prisoner. This was well known, he thought,—or certainly, was more than intimated at the time, as it has been since, and upon many occasions. Mr Fox enlarged upon the idea that the prisoner acted upon authority, and that the subject matter of complaint was one for the two Governments to settle. In conclusion again he expresses the hope that the prisoner will be speedily released.

The most interesting part of correspondence is the reply of the Secretary of State to the British Minister, Mr. Forsyth, in courteous terms, acknowledges the reception of the letter of Mr. Fox, and reiterates his ground of complaint. Under the advice and direction of the President he proceeds to answer the complaint. Always desirous to preserve the amicable relations between the two governments, he profess to be still desirous to terminate the present controversy in the same friendly spirit. He speaks of the delicate questions which have been brought before the government in times past, and appeals to Mr. Fox to bear testimony to the friendly disposition of the President and the United States towards Great Britain.

It is with unfeigned regret, he says, that he cannot comply with the request submitted, but he cannot, and for reasons given at length. The circumstances connected with the arrest of the prisoner forbid it. He was charged with arson committed upon American soil, and American property. The history of the burning of the Caroline was the history of a great outrage, and the prisoner was confined or arraigned under the charge of being one of a band of lawless marauders. He made his appearance in New York voluntarily, after the commission of the offence, and was imprisoned as one of the guilty party. The President, continues Mr Forsyth, knows of no principle of international law which calls for the release of such an offender.

Mr Forsyth proceeds to comment in a becoming temper upon the acknowledgement, for the first time officially made, that the Caroline was burnt under the authority of the British government. No such avowal has before been officially made, and it now comes from one speaking by authority. It became the U States therefore, to act as the complainant

Mr Alford, of Georgia, who moved the reconsideration, was the first to break silence. He was glad that he had submitted the motion to reconsider, and the more so from the character of the correspondence. For one he was ready to approve of the letter of the Secretary of State, and I do cheerfully approve it, said Mr Alford—and the more readily, since it is the first official act which I can remember which has been submitted by this Administration, which has met my approbation. My party biases are not so strong, but I can appreciate the good done by an opponent.

Mr Alford, in a tone of high feeling, proceeded to comment upon the conduct of Great Britain in all her recent territorial relations with this Government. As an American he felt humbled. The course of Mr Van Buren had been to degrade the nation and to bring the flag of America to the feet of the Lion of England. The President was humbled by the Queen and brought low. He hailed the high toned letter of the Secretary as re-establishing a proper feeling of Independence in the United States. He wished to see this feeling revered for he regarded the conduct of Great Britain towards us as unjust and oppressive

Mr. Holmes of South Carolina replied, and with some feeling. I am delighted with this debate, said Mr Holmes, not because the doctrines of State Rights have been alluded to during the discussion,—(that subject had been spoken of by Messrs. Stanley, Pickens and Alford before the motion to reconsider) for any man now interprets State Rights doctrine as he pleases. Like the Constitution, the doctrine was construed as gentlemen chose to understand it, and every man understood it for himself.

But I am glad, said Mr Holmes, for another reason. We have heard, from a gentleman of influence and standing who represents the South, something of the policy of the new Administration. I am sorry that the gentleman speaks in a tone so warlike,—of prospects so belligerent. I am for peace. If there was a war, we at the South would be ruined by it. I am therefore opposed to and fear that it will be the policy of the Administration,—for I presume the member from Georgia speaks by authority

Mr Alford replied. "A single word in explanation to the honorable and distinguished gentleman from South Carolina. When upon the floor before, I spoke, not advisedly, or with any knowledge of what would be the policy of Gen Harrison,—I spoke for myself only. The sentiments I gave vent to were my own honest convictions. I do not agree with the member who proceeded me. When war does come, she will be found in the field doing battle for the country. I would speak for South Carolina in reply to her representative, for I was one of the first born children of her nullification, and know enough of South Carolina to know that she will stand by the flag of the Country."

Mr Cushing, of Mass, followed in the discussion, and commented freely and feelingly upon the correspondence upon the Speaker's table: He reminded the House of the important avowal now for the first time officially announced, that our property had been plundered by Great Britain, on the authority of the officers of the Government. He spoke also of the conduct of the authorities of Great Britain in Upper Canada, both judicial and military, in matters of importance to us as Americans. The British authorities were to be dealt with upon their own principles. McLeod is now imprisoned and could be condemned and punished forthwith.

Mr Cushing spoke in reply to Mr Holmes, of S C, also, and in approval of the patriotic sentiments which had fallen from the lips of the member from Georgia. He was delighted to hear them, and believed that upon reflection they would find approval even in the heart of the member from South Carolina. It was singular enough, Mr Cushing thought, that while members of this Congress had, from their seats here and from the hustings, proclaimed that the great Whig party were allies of the British, they were now accusing that very party of being anxious to rush into a war with Great Britain.

Mr Duncan, of Ohio, rose to offer some remarks, but being of a party nature he was called to order.

The whole subject was brought to a close by the withdrawal of the motion to reconsider.

U. S. Senator from Maryland.—Our Annapolis correspondent's letter, received last night, informs us that the Hon John Leeds Kerr was yesterday duly elected to fill the vacancy in the U S Senate occasioned by the death of Dr Spence. The choice is one that will give very general satisfaction—Mr Kerr will do honor to the State, in the exalted station which he has been called on to occupy in the National councils.—Balt Amer.

The special election for a member of Congress from the Norfolk (Va) District, in place of Mr Holleman, (W H) resigned, has doubtless resulted in the election of Dr Mallory, the Whig candidate—to whom there was no organized opposition.—In the districts heard from his majority was 624.—Balt Amer.

The Inland trade between the U. States and Mexico promises to be greatly benefited by a Bill which passed the Senate on Wednesday. It proposes to extend the drawback system to the exportation of foreign goods from Independence, in the State of Missouri, and Van Buren and Fulton, in Arkansas. Each of these towns is on a great river, to wit: the first on the Missouri, the second on the Arkansas, the third on the Red river. The Globe says that these towns if the bill passes the Houses of Representatives, become ports of entry, and it will greatly accelerate the important inland trade between the valley of the Mississippi and the northern parts of the Mexican Republic.—Balt Amer.

LAKE ERIE.

STATISTICS OF SAIL CRAFT.—The first vessel that floated upon Lake Erie, was called "The Griffin." In August, 1697, La Salle's expidition embarked on board that vessel on their way to Mackinac, from which period her history is entirely lost.

Previous to the war of 1812, and the building of the fleet by Com. Perry, at Presque Isle, (Erie,) but few vessels navigated the waters of lake Erie. Some ten or a dozen illy manned and misshapen hulks were owned here and at Detroit, which were, at that early date, fully adequate to the wants of commerce.

Soon however, as the war was ended and the tide of emigration set towards the West, a new state of things sprang into existence. The tiny bark of the Red Seneca and frail batteaux of the swarthy courreur du bois disappeared, and others of greater magnitude and utility took their place. Such vessels as escaped destruction during the war were repaired and put in commission, others were built, and by the spring of 1818, the increase of trade and travel was such as to warrant the building of a steamboat.

At that time there were not thirty sail craft upon the lake, now there is three hundred, affording employment to nearly 3000 persons. To trace and analyze the various gradations of vessels that have floated in our harbor from that time until the present, would be a task tedious and prolix; we shall therefore speak only of those now in commission. As we before said, there are some 300 sail craft employed in this and the upper lake trade, including two ships of 350 tons each. One of these, the Superior, was originally a steam vessel, but after running several seasons she was driven ashore during a gale, and afterwards dismantled and fitted up in her present style. Another vessel, the Julia Palmer, was originally built and rigged as a ship, but was converted into a steamboat.

Of the others, the Queen Charlotte is the only full-rigged brig upon the lake. She is a staunch and capacious craft, and with the barque Detroit—the flag ship of Com. Barclay, when he and Perry contested for the supremacy of our inland sea—are the only vessels of war now afloat that were in that engagement. After a lapse of twenty-two years, these vessels raised from the side of their competitors—the Lawrence and Niagara—in Presque Isle bay, and put into commission. The two latter still repose in their sandy and white pebbled beds.

There were two other full-rigged brigs of heavy tonnage upon the lake, but both were lost a year or two ago. The Manhatten, with a full cargo of merchandise, was wrecked on the Canada shore, in Gravelly Bay Nov. 1838, and the Neptune the season following, at Little Pt. Au Sable, a few miles north of Muskegon river, on lake Michigan on which occasion all on board, consisting of twenty-two persons (the captain and two hands excepted) perished.

The class of vessels now employed are mostly hermaphrodite brigs, and schooners, varying from 50 to 250 tons each, whose aggregate tonnage is not far from thirty thousand, not including transient vessels registered at ports upon lake Ontario. Of this number some fifty vessels are employed in the fish and lumber trade upon the upper lakes. Formerly the number was greater, but the immense falling off in the building line has broken up this branch of business and turned the vessels into the produce trade, which is annually increasing.

When we speak of the lumber trade we allude to those vessels which carry pine plank, &c., from Canada and Green Bay to Chicago and its vicinity, and not of those engaged in the stave trade through the Welland Canal, a branch of business which, by-the-bye, is quite extensive.

The size of vessels now in service upon the western waters varies considerably, but it is conceded that topsail schooners of 200 tons burthen are the least adapted to our trade. A vessel of this description costs as follows:

Hull, including spars, $25 per ton	$5,000
Suit of sails, 1000 yard canvas	800
Ground tackle, including chain cables and anchor	500
Cost of rigging	700
	$7,000

To manage a vessel of this class requires the services of eight persons, whose wages are as follows:

Captain; per month	$60
Mate, "	45
Five hands before mast, each $18 per month	90
Cook, " "	18

As regards the captain, however, many of them have an interest in the vessel instead of a stipulated salary, which not only excites them to greater exertions, but throws around each officer selected additional responsibility.

During the month a vessel may make three trips to Cleveland and back. One schooner has during the present season performed her trips to that place weekly, thus keeping tally with the steamboats since the opening of navigation. A schooner of the above dimensions will carry 2000 bbls. of flour and 1700 or 2000 bushels of wheat, the charge upon which from Cleveland would be $400, or from Chicago and St Joseph, from $800 to $1000. In favorable weather, the run from the latter place can be made in eight or ten days. The upward trip, however, is slow and tedious, frequently consuming twice that length of time. A vessel such as we have been speaking of has the following pieces of canvas, viz: main-sail, fore-sail, jib, and flying-jib, top-sail, top-gallant-sail and square-sail. A full-rigged brig has just double that number, with the addition of several light sails, used only in mild weather.

The materials of which ropes for marine purposes are made, vary greatly in their peculiar qualities. All the stationary, or as it is nautically termed, 'standing' rigging, is composed of Russia hemp, while all the small cord and running rigging, i. e., that which passes through sheaves and blocks, is made of a kind of grass or coarse hemp, called manilla, possessing immense strength and flexibility, but of such peculiar qualities that tar will not adhere to it. The sails also, are all composed of Russia duck, cotton canvass having gone into disrepute from its aptness to mildew, and consequent decay. A suit of sails is essentially used up in three seasons. Insurances on this species of vessels are effected at 7 per cent. per annum.

During the past season, the whole number of sail craft arrived and cleared at our port was 2,334 vessels; steamboats 1,500. Aggregate tonnage within a fraction of 50,000.

EXTRACTS

From the Review of the Baltimore Market, for the week ending Friday evening, January 1.

OFFICE OF THE "AMERICAN."

American Cotton & Woollen Goods.—The market as is usual at this season of the year has been very dull during the week. We have made some corrections in our table of quotations for American manufactured goods, and it will be found to agree strictly with the present rates current in the market.

Beeswax.—Large sales of Yellow have been made during the week at 27 to 27½ cents per lb. The same price was offered for other lots and refused.

Coffee.—There appears to be but little doing by private contract, in anticipation of the large auction sale announced for next week. Limited sales of St. Domingo are making at 9¼ a 9½ cts., and of Rio at 10¾ a 11 cts.

Feathers.—Retail sales only are making at 40 to 50 cents for Western, according to quality.

Fish.—We hear of no sales of any description. Mackerel are held at $16 for No. 1; $14 for No. 2; and $8 for 3—almost without inquiry.

Howard street Flour.—The market for Howard st. Flour closed last week at $4.56 for good common brands from stores, and sales were made generally in the early part of this week at the same price. For two or three days past the market has been unsteady and some sales were made at $4,53. To day however, we are advised of sales of some lots at $4.50. The wagon price is unsettled, and we quote at about $4,44.

Inspection of Flour in 1840.—The following is the amount of Flour inspected in the city during the year 1840, as made up from the returns of the inspections published in our weekly report:

	bbls.	half bbls.
Howard street,	497,736	7570
City Mills,	217 256	2',036
Susquehanna,	49,123	00
Total,	764,116	32,606

Besides the above there were inspected during the year 1,196 hhds. 12,789 bbls, and 93 half bbls. Corn Meal; and 5676 bbls Rye Flour.

Molasses.—At Auction on Wednesday a parcel of Trinidad Molasses was offered, and the first lot of 5 hhds. sold at 19 cents—sale stopped.—There is a large stock of old Molasses in market, the quality of which is not prime, and therefore difficult of sale. We correct our quotations to correspond with the current sales.

Sugars.—The only auction sale this week was on Tuesday, when 100 hhds. new crop New Orleans were sold at $7,25 a $7,70. We note sale, by private contract of 260 boxes Cuba brown mostly at 8 cts 6 mos.

Whiskey.—Up to Wednesday sales of hhds were made at 23 cents, and of bbls. at twenty-five cents. Since then sales of bbls. have been made at 24 a 25 cents. The wagon price of bbls continues at 20 cents, exclusive of the barrel.—The inspections of the week comprise 35 hhds. and 754 bbls; of which 32 hhds and 497 bbls were received by the Susquehanna Railroad.

Inspections of Whiskey in 1840.—There were inspected during the year 1840, according to the returns of the inspections published in our weekly report, 5263 hhds and 63,031 bbls Whiskey; of which 607 hhds and 20,175 bbls were received by the Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad; and 3 990 hhds. and 21,873 bbls from the Susquehanna River and the Tide Water Canal.

M'LANE'S LUNG SYRUP!

25 CENTS FOR HALF SIZED BOTTLES.

45 BOTTLES SOLD IN A FEW MONTHS!!

THE increasing demand for M'Lane's Lung Syrup has induced the proprietor to put up this valuable preparation in 25 cent vials, as well as in 50 cents, in order that it may be within the reach of all classes of persons laboring under a severe cold, or the first stage of diseased Lungs. CERTIFICATES.

Messrs Holmes and Kidd—This is to certify that I had a very severe cough all last winter, and was very much reduced. After trying Medical aid, to no purpose, I was advised to procure a bottle of M'Lane's Lung Syrup: it gave me relief immediately, and in two weeks I was able to go out, and fully believe it to be one of the most valuable medicines now before the public, for coughs and breast complaints.

READ THIS!

Messrs Holmes and Kidd, Gentlemen—This is to certify that my wife has been afflicted for several years with the following pains, at periods, more or less:—Pain in the right side, about the edge of the ribs, extending to the right shoulder, pain in the back part of the head, and above the right eye, accompanied by weakness, loss of appetite, and almost constantly confined to her bed. Since August last she has used of Dr M'Lane's Lung Syrup two bottles, and three boxes of Liver Pills. The Lungs were considerably pained, and I have now to state, that by using these medicines she has been benefited in no ordinary degree. Under the Providence of God she enjoys good health, and is able to attend to the domestic concerns of my family.

THE COMPOUND SYRUP OF BONSET,

A PLEASANT Cordial for Influenza, Coughs, complaints of the Lungs, tending to Consumption, Colds, pain in the Breast and Sides, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, difficult breathing in young children, etc.—The Bonset is a tonic, diaphoretic, emetic and aperient, and in domestic practice is so well known that it would be useless to say any thing on the subject in its favor. It is said to have been used by the Indians in intermittent fever, and has proved successful in the cure of the same complaint, in the hands of several regular practitioners.

DIRECTIONS.

Take a tea spoonful when ever the cough or hoarseness is troublesome, and repeat every half hour until relieved: it may be used more frequently if necessary. For children and infants, about half the quantity, once an hour, will be sufficient. A table spoonful may be taken by an adult at bed time, and repeated in the night, if much awakened by coughing.—Prepared by

H. SMYSER,
Corner of 5th and Market sts.

P. S. The above preparation is so well established here, that it would be superfluous to say any thing in its favor. The fact that several of our most respectable physicians prescribe it, or the article it is prepared from, and that numerous certificates have been voluntarily tendered of its decided efficacy in the various diseases for which it is recommended, is deemed amply sufficient. ☞PRICE, Fifty Cents and One Dollar.

DR. M'CLANE'S

WORM SPECIFIC.

THIS is to certify that a child of mine five years old used one vial of Dr. M'Lane's American Worm Specific, and discharged at one time 29 large worms, some of which were from 8 to 10 inches long. For the facts in this case, we refer to James Leyburn, Cabinet maker, Second st., between Wood and Smithfield streets. J. FOWLER.

Having used Dr M'Lane's Specific Vermifuge in my family, I, without hesitancy, pronounce it an excellent Vermifuge, and would recommend it to parents having children afflicted with worms. SAMUEL SNOWDEN.

Gentlemen—I hereby certify that three of my grandchildren, ages, 5, 3½, and 2 years old, have been sickly for some time, and that I bought from Mr Shand, of this place, three vials of Dr. M'Lane's Worm Specific, and by the use of one and a half vials, 250 worms (one of 10 inches long) were brought from the little sufferers, all alive and mostly large. If measured, I think there would be one quart of worms, if not more. The Vermifuge succeeds best if the bowels of the patient are open before receiving the medicine.

COUGHS! COUGHS!!

MILLER'S COUGH SYRUP.—This preparation, having stood the test of experience, is confidently recommended as being the best now in use, for Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and the various affections of the Lungs.

The importance of early and prompt attention to Coughs and Colds cannot be too strongly urged, when it is so well known that consumption, so prevalent in this climate, makes its first approach with a cough or cold, often so slight as to cause no apprehension in the mind of the sufferer, until the disease becomes too deeply seated for medical skill to relieve.

In again calling public attention to this cough remedy, the proprietor would protest against its being classed among the thousand quack medicines yearly offered to the public; he publishes no certificates, they being too easily obtained and manufactured, to be of any weight with an intelligent community, but renews the offer to REFUND THE MONEY in every case where a bottle of the Syrup is used according to the directions, without benefiting the patient.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

A VEGETABLE & Universal Medicine, proved by the experience of thousands to be when properly persevered with, a certain cure for the only One Disease, all having the same origin, and invariably arise from the Universal Root of all disease, namely, Impurity or Imperfect Circulation of the Blood.

In a period of little more than three years in the United States, they have restored to a state of health and enjoyment over One Hundred Thousand persons, who were given over as incurable, by physicians of the first rank and standing, and in many cases where every other remedy had been resorted to in vain.

For testimonials and cases of cure, apply at Dr Benjamin Brandreth's Office, 126 Wood st, between 5th and 6th, the only place in Pittsburgh where the genuine Brandreth Pills CAN be obtained.

CAUTION.—Dr Brandreth NEVER APPOINTS DRUGGISTS and PEDLARS as his Agents, therefore, if you wish to obtain the genuine vegetable universal Pills, never purchase at Drug STORES or of Pedlars—all the duly and only appointed agents who sell the TRUE Brandreth's Pills, have an ENGRAVED certificate of agency, dated the twelve months next preceding, and have entered into bonds of $500 to sell only such pills as they receive from Dr B., or his traveling agents, who invariably have a power of attorney, proved before the clerk of the county of New York.

OBSERVE—When you purchase pills, ask to see the certificate of agency—all who sell the GENUINE PILLS HAVE ONE, signed Dr B. Brandreth, in his own hand writing.

Remember, the certificate is not letter press lithographed, or written—it is engraved.

PRICE 25 cents per box, with directions.

DYSPEPSIA.—In this formidable disease, the White Sulphur Water has long enjoyed a high and deserved celebrity. It being decidedly alkaline in its character, (as will be seen by reference to its analysis,) it promptly relieves the acidity or sourness of stomach, incident to this disease; while, by its alterative operations, it effectually corrects the morbid condition of the stomach and liver, upon which the disease depends.

Professor Gibson, of Philadelphia, in a recent communication, affords the following unequivocal testimony to the efficacy of these waters in dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases:

"I can declare, with great confidence," observes the Professor, "as the result of a large share of experience with the White Sulphur Water, that the most beneficial effects have arisen from its use, in various Dyspeptic depravities; in simple and complicated disorders of the Liver; in obstinate affections of the alimentary canal," &c, &c.

In obstinate or habitual Costiveness, great reliance may be placed in the persevering use of these waters. The distinguised Dr Thomas Harris, of Philadelphia, who has had much experience in their use, remarks, in a letter to a friend, "I am pleased to learn, that it is in contemplation to transport the water of the White Sulphur Springs to our Atlantic cities. This water is an excellent aperient and alterative, and is found particularly beneficial in diseases of the chylopatic viscera, associated with Costiveness." He adds, "those who cannot conveniently visit the Springs, may use these waters advantageously at home; particularly as they do not deteriorate by transportation, if carefully corked and sealed."

WORMS! WORMS!! WORMS!!!

Sherman's Worm Lozenges

ARE the greatest discovery yet made for distroying the various kinds of worms that so frequently and distressingly annoy both children and adults. They are an infallible remedy, and so pleasant to the taste that a child will take them as readily as a common peppermint Lozenge.—Many diseases arise from the worms without its being suspected. Sometimes a very troublesome cough, pain in the joints or limbs, bleeding at the nose, &c, are occasioned by the worms, and will be easily cured by using this celebrated medicine.

Dr Churchill has used them in over fifty cases; cured ten of spasms and three of fits. He considers them safe and sure, and recommends them to all.

Mr J B Nones has furnished them in his family with entire success, and several of his friends have great confidence in them.

The Hon B B Beardsley thinks they have saved the life of one of his children. It had been a long time in a decline and was attended by the best physicians without any relief. His family doctor recommended Sherman's Worm Lozenges as the only hope; he did so, and through the blessing of God his child is now well—another living evidence of their wonderful virtues. Mr B says no family should be without them.
